William came to America with his father's family when about four years of age (although, his revolutionary war record states he was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania). There is difference of opinion in regard to where the first settlement was made. Some sying it was in Canninsberg, Washington County, Pennsylvania and others in Colerain, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. We know little of William's father. His occupation was tanning and it is said that he lived to the advanced age of 104 years, also, his teeth were wonderfully preserved through his long life. He retaining them all at his death. William was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He entered the army when residing in Colerain, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, serving three different periods of time. In regard to the portion of his life previous to this we are almost entirely in ignorance. When young he was instructed in the same branch of business that his father had been in although farming became his chief occupation. After Williams service in the Continental army he settled in Bucks County, Pennsylvania and was soon afterwards married to Miss Margaret Bronn, to whom it is said he was engaged seven years previous to their marriage. They first went to housekeeping in Bucks County where they remained until about the year 1782. They were parents of 10 children, John, James, William II, Andrew, Margaret, Josiah, Elizabeth, Mary, Samuel, and Hannah. From Bucks County they removed to Washington County, Pennsylvania where they remained probably about eighteen years. Their children all being born there except the two oldest. Their next removal was to Poland, Ohio in about the year 1800. William bought two hundred arces of land about where the village of Poland now stands, built a house there and resided there about two years. He then exchanged his two hundred acres of land in Poland, Ohio for seven hundred acres in Weathersfield, Trumbull County, Ohio where he spent the remainder of his days. He lived on his farm in Weathersfield until after the marriage of all his children. He then divided his property among his children and he and his life companion lived in a small house on his son William's farm and near by his house. They remained there until the death of his wife which occurred November 28, 1830 and for some time afterwards William lived there alone, but finally removed to Simon Peter Carlton's, his grandson, about two years before his death. He had a paralytic stroke when about 40 years of age from which he never fully recovered. This was followed by another in his old age which proved fatal. He was struck speechless while sitting in his chair about eleven days before his death which occurred in June 1836. He being 83 years old. complexion with black hair and black eyes and possessed a rather peculiar organism which was transmitted to several subsequent generations. He was a member of the Baptist Church known as the old regular Baptist. Politically speaking he was an Anti-Jackson man, belonging to the Clay school of politics. He was of a mild and sociable disposition. He was also very fond of books and had an uncommon inclination to read especially in his declining years and he was very fond of coffee, it being requested at every meal. Andrew Dunlap was the foreman and hired man for Dr. Chauncey Fowler. When the Doctors father died, Andrew married his widow, Lydia Kirkland Fowler. When Lydia died, Andrew married his step-son's mother-in-law, Rebecca Holland.

Andrew bought and cleared up the farm in Poland, Ohio where he lived. He was a farmer and dealt in stock of all kinds and for a number of years carried on quite an extensive business in that line, but the financial crisis of 1836-1847 caught his affairs in bad shape so that he was compelled to sell most of his farm to retrieve himself and at his death he passed but little of this worlds good but was, in fact richer in the consciousness of having paid all of his just dues, than many broad acres and bank accounts could have made him

He was a large fleshy man of dark complexion. He was of a very sociable disposition and a jolly companion. He was a member of the Presbyterian Huch. He lived to be 78 years of age. He not only lived to raise his children but also to bury all but one.
